9. Listen to Act 2 (from ‘Dear Mr Worthing’, to ‘Charity, dear Miss Prism...’). Put the sentences from the conversation between Canon Chasuble, Jack and Miss Prism in the correct order. The first and last have been done as examples. Check your answers on p.40 of the book or in the answer key.

a. A bad cold, it seems.  14
b. Dead!

c. Dear Mr Worthing, I hope these black clothes do not mean that something dreadful has happened?  1

d. Did the telegram mention the cause of death?

e. Is he still leading his wicked life?

f. More shameful debts and bad behaviour?

g. Mr Worthing, I offer you my sincere condolences. At least you know that you have always been most generous and forgiving to him.

h. My brother.

i. No. He died abroad; in Paris, in fact. I had a telegram last night from the manager of the Grand Hotel in Paris.

j. Poor Ernest! He had many faults, but it is very, very sad.

k. Quite dead.
Listen to Act 3 (from ‘My dear Mr Worthing, ...’ to ‘It must be the same person.’). Write the direct speech you hear under the reported sentences below. Check your answers on pp.72–73 of the book or in the answer key. The first one is an example.

a  Lady Bracknell begged Jack to think again about his decision.
   ‘I beg of you to think again about your decision.’

b  Jack replied that the decision was entirely in Lady Bracknell's own hands.

c  Jack explained that when Lady Bracknell consented to his marriage to Gwendolen, he would gladly consent to her nephew’s marriage with his ward.

d  Lady Bracknell exclaimed that he must know that his marriage with her daughter was not possible.

e  Lady Bracknell told him that she could not agree to Gwendolen never getting married.

f  She told Gwendolen to go with her as they had already missed five, if not six, trains.

g  Lady Bracknell advised Algernon that her husband, Lord Bracknell would be very displeased to hear that he was wasting his time and money in that way.

h  Canon Chasuble asked whether he understood them correctly.

i  Lady Bracknell demanded to know whether Miss Prism was a rather ugly female who was remotely connected with education.
1. Very sad indeed. Were you with him at the end?
2. What a lesson for him! I hope he will learn from this.
3. Your brother Ernest is dead?

10 Listen to Act 2 (from ‘Uncle Jack!’ to ‘I feel very happy.’). You will hear the words in the box. One sound of each word is underlined. Put the words in the correct column according to the underlined sound. There are five words for each sound. The first four have been done for you: ‘Jack’ /æ/; ‘half’ /ɑː/; ‘change’ /eɪ/; and ‘arrived’ /ə/. Check your answers in the answer key.

11 Listen to Act 2 (from ‘I don’t like it.’ to ‘...success for you.’). Underline the stressed words in each line. The first one has been done as an example. Check your answers in the answer key.

Algernon: Well, I don’t like your clothes. You look perfectly ridiculous in them. Why don’t you go upstairs and change? It is perfectly childish to be wearing black clothes for a man who is going to stay in your house for a whole week as a guest.

Jack: You are certainly not staying with me for a whole week. You have got to leave ... by the four o’clock train.

Algernon: I certainly won’t leave you while you are in black clothes. That would be very unfriendly.

Jack: Well, will you go if I change my clothes?

Algernon: Yes, if you are not too long. I never saw anybody else who took so long to get dressed, and with such uninteresting results.

Jack: Well, at least that is better than always being overdressed like you.

Algernon: If I am occasionally overdressed, I make up for it by being extremely overeducated.

Jack: Your vanity is silly, your behaviour is outrageous and your presence in my garden is ridiculous.
12  Listen to Act 2 (from ‘The carriage is...’ to ‘...proposal in my diary.’). List all the references to time and dates that you hear. Check your answers on pp.46–51 of the book or in the answer key.
